

University of Massachusetts – Boston
Department of Chemistry
Graduate Program
Choosing a Research Advisor

Graduate students are required to talk to at least five (5) members of the faculty before selecting his or her research advisor. It is in the best interest of a full-time student to make this decision during their first semester in the program. Therefore, this form needs to be completed and handed in personally to the Graduate Program Director during an advising session by the end of the first semester of study.
